First and foremost, we excel because our emphasis is on technical expertise.

This fact becomes critically important when you are in need of a qualified and experienced advocate to work on your behalf. As a client of Silver Oak Advisors, you receive the most competent taxpayer representation in the industry. In short, we'll defend and protect your interests as though they were our own.

We bring unmatched expertise and focus to the specialized areas of property tax consulting, property tax valuation, compliance and protest & appeal services.

We excel in the valuation of taxable real and personal property. By performing a comprehensive valuation analysis, we accurately determine the value of taxable property and establish what should be the basis for your property tax liability.

At the same time, we make it our business to carefully examine the methodology being used by the tax assessor in a given appraisal situation. Business conditions are never static. Dynamic forces that affect the value of your assets are constantly at work. For this reason, it is critical that the valuation work of the tax assessor be thoroughly examined to determine whether the assessor has properly dealt with abatements and exemptions, physical depreciation, functional and economic obsolescence, capitalization and discount rates, intangible property issues, and environmental impairment issues.

Is your company expanding or relocating?

Property tax considerations play a major role as businesses build, expand, and determine where to locate. Silver Oak Advisors provides services such as the evaluation of property tax incentives, the consideration of tax consequences, the negotiation of property tax abatements, and other tax related incentive services.

Are you looking for Local Knowledge and Industry Expertise?

Although Silver Oak Advisors operates out of Atlanta, GA, we represent clients throughout the United States, we know and appreciate the local environments in which our clients operate.

Silver Oak Advisors was formed because of the absolute necessity for property owners to have access to a true, national tax consulting service that uses local and “specific property type” experts for every assignment.

Today, the most sought after professionals in our business work for themselves in smaller practices and boutique law firms. Silver Oak manages the use of the best local consultants in your markets throughout the United States. Silver Oak acts as the manager and oversight conduit that brings these local professionals together to work for our clientele, while providing a single point of contact and source of information.

Our industry owes it to our clientele to be well informed, calculated, and precise when it comes to representing a taxpayer. Only a qualified consultant with local experience can make that claim every time they act on behalf of a client. Large national consulting firms owe it to their clientele to admit that while they can “do the job” on a property not in their own community, a locally-qualified consultant would simply do that job better.

We encourage you to examine your own portfolio and determine if you have a locally-qualified consultant for each and every asset you own or control. If you are using a large, conventional property tax firm with regional offices in a few or possibly several places around the country, chances are you don't. If that is the case, we would welcome the opportunity to demonstrate what Silver Oak's business model and services can do for you.
